

- Number of the beast

- Rev 13:18
- Here is wisdom. Let him that hath understanding count the number of the beast: for it is the number of a man; and his number [is] Six hundred threescore [and] six.

Number of the beast

- If the EU is the beast and the 2 documents the EU used to create the positions of High Representative of the EU and Secretary General of the WEU as well as to give this person complete authority over the EU are both documents numbered 666 then it would seem that Revelation 13:18 has been fulfilled.

RECOMMENDATION 666 ←

on the consequences of including certain functions of WEU in the European Union - reply to the annual report of the Council

The Assembly,

- (i) Thanking the Council for rapidly conveying the second part of its forty-fifth annual report and the detailed information contained therein;
- (ii) Noting that the Council's informal reflection process on Security and Defence Europe deals with the preparation of WEU's legacy and problems connected with the inclusion of those WEU functions that the European Union regards as necessary to fulfil its responsibilities in the area of crisis management, but that the parliamentary dimension is not part of that process;
- (iii) Aware that the Council and the Assembly will continue to exist for as long as the modified Brussels Treaty remains in force and that they both bear the prime responsibility for application of the Treaty;
- (iv) Reminding the Council nevertheless that the modified Brussels Treaty assigns it responsibilities with a view to promoting the progressive integration of Europe and cooperation with other European organisations and that the Treaty on European Union, which states that WEU is an integral part of its development, confers upon it additional tasks in respect of the European Union;
- (v) Recalling that the parliamentary dimension of European security and defence forms part of WEU's legacy and that the Council must exercise its responsibility with a view to implement actions of the Union, anticipating them in so far as is possible;

8. Assist the European Union in framing its "headline goal" of deploying and sustaining a European force capable of carrying out the full range of Petersberg missions, on the basis of the work done by WEU, in relation especially to the illustrative Petersberg mission profiles;
9. Make public opinion and the political authorities in the member states aware of the need for additional funding to achieve the "headline goal", in particular to guarantee that the said European force is militarily self-sufficient and has the necessary capability to carry out the proposed missions;
10. Ensure that the function WEU currently fulfils as an essential element of the European Security and Defence Identity (ESDI) within the Atlantic Alliance is in future fulfilled by the European Union's CESDP;
11. Support efforts to set up flexible forms of closer cooperation in the framework of the CFSP and CESDP that are not strictly limited to European Union member states;
12. Support proposals for the WEU Secretary-General and CFSP High Representative to preside over the PSC and civilian crisis-management machinery and give him powers to convene the Council of the European Union in the event of an emergency;
13. Propose to the European Union that it base its relationship with NATO on a provision of the Treaty on European Union comparable with that of Article IV of the modified Brussels Treaty;
14. Prepare and transmit to the European Union an in-depth assessment of its experience in the field of crisis management and propose to the Union that it base its new responsibilities in this area on a new provision of the Treaty on European Union drawing on Article VIII.3 of the modified Brussels Treaty;
15. Assist the European Union in coordinating civilian and military crisis management using the CIMIC concept as a basis and inform the Assembly about this concept;

Javier Solana – Current High Representative of the EU, Secretary General of the EU and Secretary General of the WEU

Javier Solana - Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia - Microsoft Internet Explorer

File Edit View Favorites Tools Help

Back Search Favorites

Address http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Javier_Solana

Your continued donations keep Wikipedia running!

Javier Solana

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Francisco Javier Solana Madariaga (born July 14, 1942 in Madrid, Spain) is the High Representative for the Common Foreign and Security Policy \(CFSP\) and the Secretary-General of both the Council of the European Union \(EU\) and the Western European Union \(WEU\). He was a physicist who became a political minister for 13 years before serving as Secretary General of NATO from 1995 to 1999. Dr. Solana was designated to become European Union Minister for Foreign Affairs in 2006, but is likely to continue in his present role while the future of the EU is decided.

Contents [hide]

- Background and career as physicist
- Spanish politics
- NATO
 - Kosovo war
- EU foreign policy chief
 - Foreign affairs
- Other
- See also
- External links

Background and career as physicist

Solana comes from a well-known Spanish family and is the grandson of Spanish League of Nations disarmament chief, diplomat, writer and European integrationist Salvador de Madariaga and Scottish scholar and economic historian Constance Archibald de Madariaga. His father was a chemistry professor, and his mother the writer Nieves Mathews. His older brother Luis was imprisoned for his political activities opposing the dictatorship of Francisco Franco.

He studied in the El Pilar College, an exclusive Catholic secondary school, before going to Complutense University \(UCM\). There as a student in 1963 he was sanctioned by the authorities for having organised an opposition forum at the so-called called Week of University Renovation.

Javier Solana

[edit]

What links here Related changes Upload file Special pages Printable version Permanent link Cite this article

Беларуская Deutsch

Internet

Javier Solana's Grandfather
"don Salvador de Madariaga"
League of Nations Disarmament
Chief

DISARMAMENT

- by SALVADOR DE MADARIAGA
- Published 1929
- It is a well-known fact that the League works on the principle of unanimity. The alternative to such a principle is a SUPER-STATE, since on the day a nation could be bound by decisions taken by an international body against its own vote, its own sovereignty would have been transferred to the international body in question....

- EU (Community) law - definitions
- Community law is an independent legal system which takes precedence over national legal provisions.

SEARCH Go Our site Web enhanced by Google

- Home
- News home
- Blogs
- Business news
- Comment
- Factfiles
- Law reports
- Matt cartoon
- Obituaries
- Picture galleries
- Text alerts
- Week at a glance
- Your view
- About us
- Contact us

- Comment
- Your view
- Blogs
- Fashion
- Arts & Books
- Fantasy Football
- Personal Finance
- Science & Tech
- Food & Drink
- Gardening

News Sport Business Travel Jobs Motoring Property

EU ignores constitution vote to launch anti-terror squad
 By Justin Stares and Patrick Hennessy
 (Filed: 18/06/2006)

European leaders were accused of "cherry picking" from the moribund European Union constitution last night after agreeing to create a pan-European counter-terrorism force.

At the Brussels European summit, all 25 member states agreed to pool assets - police, civil protection and military - and place them at the disposal of Javier Solana, the EU's foreign minister-in-waiting.

Such a move had been planned in the constitution which was rejected by voters in France and Holland last year. The constitution has been left on the shelf although Europe's leaders want it up and running again by 2008. Minutes of the summit show that the kernel of the counter-terrorism force, the "crisis steering group", will be operational in a fortnight.

The counter-terrorism force would be controlled by Javier Solana

The EU presidency, currently held by Austria, has drawn up a "manual" of forces and assets which can be called on following an attack in any country.

Related Links

European Union factfile

Gulf Hurricane Relief
 Help Support Health Clinics Providing Critical Aid to Evacuees.
www.DirectRelief.org

Make Your Donation Today
 Help Rebuild Lives & Communities in Hurricane Affected States.
www.BushClintonKatrinaFund.org

Foreign Media Reaction

- "Europe, NATO And The Defense Of The Realm"

-

The conservative tabloid Daily Mail commented (11/26): "What of other EU members? They claim to support a stronger European defense identity. But not one of them is spending the money needed to turn that rhetoric into reality. Indeed, key countries such as Germany are recklessly cutting their defense budgets. Yet Europe proposes a rapid reaction corps when it can't meet its existing commitments. Clearly, the politicians' real motive is not to improve defense, but to advance the cause of a greater Europe. After all, how can the EU become a SUPER-STATE if it doesn't possess its own nascent army?... Certainly the Americans are worried. Washington fears that NATO...could fragment disastrously. Especially as Britain, once regarded as its most reliable ally, now seems to be leaning towards the French.... The tragedy is that in pursuit of an EU defense chimera, Britain may be dangerously weakened. We could pay a bitter price for New Labor's blind infatuation with Europe."